

The Brockville Community Choir

The Brockville Community Choir provides high quality public performances of choral music in the Leeds and Grenville area. Its semi-annual full length concerts often include professional soloists and instrumentalists. The group also brings choral music to retirement homes, churches and schools, and collaborates with other community musical groups to enrich the cultural life of the area. The Choir has fostered the musical development of young singers through supporting a Brockville youth choir, summer music camps, and youth participation in the Brockville and District Lions Music Festival.

Members of the Choir range in age from students to seniors and represent different work, life and musical experiences. Under the expert leadership of newly appointed Artistic Director Dianne Baird, members develop proper vocal production techniques and grow in their capacity to learn and present a varied repertoire which includes recognized choral masterpieces, lighter classical compositions, popular songs and works of modern composers. The Choir provides opportunities for members to be inspired through music, to socialize and to connect with community.

Request for Donations

The Brockville Community Choir relies on three sources of revenue: membership fees, ticket sales and donations. Corporations, businesses and individuals who donate are listed in the concert programs. Maestro/Maestra level donors are also acknowledged publicly at concerts. The choir is a non-profit charitable organization and a tax receipt will be issued for your donation.
